

Those of us who work in the WSU sport management program commonly tell people ours is one of the top sport management programs in the world. For the last eight years,

Wanted: New members to join the Sport Management Student Association, the WSU student group dedicated to sport management. SMSA is a group of your peers in the sport management program that meet in social and informational settings throughout the school year. SMSA activities typically include tailgates at WSU sporting events, guest speakers, group outings to games, watch parties and networking events with sport managers or program alumni.
